

From Filthy Rich to Dirt Poor

Are you tired of being Filthy Rich, just plain old tired of having it all?

Are you yearning for a more simple life?

Are you ready to give up the fancy cars, the fancy clothes, the priceless jewelry?

Are you tired of visiting the same old expensive restaurants, where the best food in town is served?

How about that nice big mansion in your secluded and gated community, or that luxurious beach house in the Keys. Yes, you know where your immense yacht that takes up its own zip code, sits by the dock that resembles your own private getaway with a tiki bar.

You must be getting sick of having people wait on you hand and foot day and night, while you barely lift a finger to bath yourself. After that bathing you squirt on the most expensive perfumes and colognes from around the world.

You have had enough of you're equally Filthy Rich friends.

You want it to all go away.

We can help you have a Net Worth of Zilch, Zero, Nothing, $0.00.

Are you waking up every morning to the same old ho hum lifestyle that just makes you sick to the stomach. So sick that, you just do not want to get up out of the bed.

Why bother, you know what already awaits you, you do not have to rush out the door because you are running late for a job. You do not know the experience of sitting in traffic, while time becomes your enemy, and knowing when you arrive at the office some pompous young fool who is still wet behind the ears stares at his or her watch because you were late.

Bills, what bills, your accountant takes care of that sordid mess, besides you have enough money to last you twelve lifetimes.

Your cars never break down. So when you do give the chauffeur the night off, and you decide to take the Mercedes for a trip around town. You never worry whether it will start, after you finish your whirlwind shopping spree. Oh yeah who carries the bags to the car for you, no one, because you have the goods delivered. For which you gladly pay extra for that convenience.

Are you ready to give it all up?

Do you dream of being Dirt Poor?

Do you envy those worse off than you?

Do you have a deep down loathing because they are able to achieve this most sought after, financial condition?

Do you ask why not me, why them? Why can't I have that lifestyle also?

No matter how hard you try, you just cannot seem to achieve complete financial ruin and destitution you have been cursed with super abundant wealth.

Somehow this status in life continues to elude you.

Oh how you long for the sweat that covers your brow because of the mid day sun that beats down on you, but there is no shelter from it.

Your belly feels the void because you could only afford a peanut butter sandwich. You want to stop and get a drink but you know if you do that could seal your doom and someone else is ready to jump in your place. Besides it took you all week to secure this day labor job. Who knows when you will get to work again. Not to mention at the end of the day you will have to hitch a ride back to the shelter to pick up your family.

And that's not the worst of it you will have to figure out where they will sleep tonight.

Is this the life you dream of?

Do you spend your days staring at the sky hoping, wishing, praying for relief from the burden of those riches that you have accumulated the burden they have put on you?

Your every minute, every hour, every day is spent sulking over a simpler more impoverished life.

Are you minutes from cracking ready to give up, because the lonely streets are calling out to you. You want to know what it is like to not have enough to eat, or fresh clothes to wear, and the shoes on your feet are stuffed with newspaper and wrapped with duck tape.

Are you just dying to stay in that one bedroom shack that leaks, with no indoor plumbing or no electricity. You cannot wait to spend the night in that run down facility with twenty others worse off than you.

If you are plagued by any of these scenarios and wish to relieve yourself of this Filthy Rich status that you despise.

Why should you suffer because you made all the right decisions and was educated on the matters of wealth and financial freedom, or you started your own business, or that you inherited your wealth and never worked a day in your life or you won the lottery, or cheated, lied and stole your way to financial independence?

No, it is not your fault, and we will never look down on you for wanting to leave it all behind.

We do not care how you became Filthy Rich, we just want to help relieve you of this burden, that robs you of true happiness, the true happiness of being Dirt Poor.
